Generation Good Respect
P.O. Box 1121

Dear Kimberly and students,

Thank you very much for inviting me to come speak to your class about bullying, verbal abuse, and disrespect, unfortunately, I will not be able to come speak to you in person.

I want to encourage you to be good to each other and treat each other with kindness and respect as this is the sign of a REAL team player! Hurtful words and actions not only hurt the person you are offending, they damage you as well. These actions set up a pattern of poor choices which can affect the rest of your life. When we treat each other with compassion, respect and forgiveness, we make the world a better place. I challenge you to be a leader not a follower. Be the one to start this movement in your own school and town.

You are the future of our nation, and we are counting on you to make good wise decisions, and that starts with treating each other with respect.

Your friend,
